

Narayana D., was a Professor, Reserve Bank of India Development Studies Chair at the Centre for Development Studies (CDS) Trivandrum where he taught for about 25 years. Prof.Narayana earned his PhD at the Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata. From 1994 to 95, he was a Fulbright scholar at the Harvard Center for Population and Development Studies and Visiting Professor at Unité de santé internationale, Montreal, Canada between January and June 2006. He was actively involved in capacity building at the level of the local governments and with women's self help groups in Kerala. His areas of interest include health financing, decentralized governance and health care services.

