

Nilanjan Bhor is working as a Project Coordinator at Azim Premji University, Bengaluru, India. Earlier to joining here he was also associated with National Institute of Epidemiology, Chennai, Christian Medical College, Vellore etc. He is an alumnus of TISS, Mumbai, CMC Vellore and Manipal University. He has enriched a diverse experience in the field of public health. His research interest includes nutrition, social determinants of health, non-communicable diseases, internal migration and family studies.